

12.1. Les pronoms personnels et possessifs. Complète le tableau:

Pronoms personnels comme sujets (nominatif)		pronom possessif			Pronoms personnels comme objets (datif/acc.)
I	open	my	eyes..		Can you see me?
You	open		eyes.		I can see you.
	opens	his	eyes.		I can see
She		her			I can see
We	open		eyes.		Can you see ?
You					I can see you.
They					I can see

12.2. About computers. Complète les blancs avec le bon mot:

freak - ~~absolutely~~ - money - fast – free time – new - growing - best – screen - e-mails - her

My friend is ...absolutely... mad about computers. He's a computer He spends (passe) all his looking at the computer screen. He has just bought (acheté) a laptop. Computer technology is so quickly. He always wants the equipment. He spends (dépense) all his on it. His new computer has an incredibly (incroyablement) hard disk and great graphics. My friend's sister also spends all her free time in front of the computer writing and chatting with friends.

12.3. Articles et noms indéfinis. Ajoute "a" ou "an":

Here is ...a... book. It's ...an... English book. This is easy exercise. That is glass. It's empty glass. Mrs Miller is young woman. Her mother is old lady. The walk to the station will take you hour. Fred is rather unfriendly person. But he has nice sister. Have you got headache? Why don't you take Aspirin. friend in need is friend indeed. (Un ami dans le besoin est un véritable ami.)