Sue: When ..... you born, grandma?

Grandma: Oh, I ..... born in 1942.

Sue: And where .....you born?

Grandma: In Glasgow.

Sue: ..... you go to school in Glasgow?

Grandma: No, I ..... I .....only in Glasgow for four years.

Sue: And then? ..... you go to London when you ..... four?

Grandma: No, we ..... go to London. We .....very rich and London ..... too expensive for us.

Sue: So where ..... you go?

Grandma: To Birmingham. It ..... too expensive. It ..... cheaper than London.

Sue: .....you go to school in Birmingham?

Grandma: Yes, I .....

Le passé de TO BE

I was (j'étais)	I wasn't (je n'étais pas)
you were	you weren't
he/she was	he/she wasn't
we were	we weren't
you were	you weren't
they were	they weren't

I do      I did –      I didn't

3.2. Going to work. Dans chaque couple de mots en gras il y a un intrus. Trouve-le et trace-le.

Jack Green, like thousands of other dogs / people who live in London, goes / likes to work by underground. "It's the best way for me to get to my new shoes / office", he says. "A lot of people fly / go to work by car, but the traffic in London is terrible / sweet in the mornings. " But it's a long night / journey. He leaves / buys his house at seven fifteen and then walks / cries to the station, near his house. His tube gets to Covent Garden station at twenty past eight. Then he dives deep / goes on foot to his office, about ten minutes / bottles from the station. "I get to the office just on time", he says, "but sometimes the tube / flying saucer is late. But that's not really important..."he smiles, "... because I own a Swiss watch / I'm the boss! "

tube: métro londonien

saucer: sous-tasse
