

Remets les phrases dans le bon ordre (numérote-les) afin d'obtenir une histoire cohérente.

..... They were deep in conversation.
 ..... but they did not notice it.
 ..... He tried to comfort the professor.
 ..... for the third and last time,
 ..... „Take your seats, please, “
 ..... the professors heard it
 ..... and rushed for the train.
 ..... He looked sad.

....1... There were three professors at the railway station.
 ..... It was Professor Egghead.
 ..... The third one was left behind.
 ..... When the loudspeaker said
 ..... My friends only came to say goodbye. “
 ..... That’s quite good, you know. “
 ..... The train had just arrived,
 ..... „Two out of three caught the train.
 ..... Two of them got on the train before it moved.
 ..... One of the professor’s students was at the station.
 ..... „It wasn’t really bad, sir, “said the student.
 ..... „But it was my train.
 ..... „I know, “the professor said.

absent-minded = distrait

to notice = remarquer

to rush for = se précipiter

to comfort = réconforter

two out of three: deux sur trois