

Von den beiden kursiv geschriebenen Ausdrücken ist jeweils nur einer richtig. Streiche den falschen durch.

Bridget Jones's Diary is a British ~~action thriller~~ / romantic comedy film, based on the novel of the same name. Renee Zellweger is Bridget, Hugh Grant is Daniel Cleaver and Colin Firth plays Bridget's "true love" / father-in-law Mark Darcy. The novel is based on Jane Austen's work The Dogs of War / Pride and Prejudice.

Bridget Jones is a single / ~~married~~, thirty-three year old woman who thinks she has a monotonous / ~~an exciting and interesting~~ life. She has some bad habits – swearing / ~~smoking~~ and drinking too much. Bridget Jones is frustrated / ~~feels good~~. She worries about about her weight / ~~mother~~. She works at a book publishing company / ~~McDonald's drive-in restaurant~~ in London where her main focus is fantasizing about her boss Daniel Cleaver. At a Christmas party at her parents' home, she meets Mark Darcy, a primary school teacher / ~~lawyer~~. After their first meeting, Mark thinks that Bridget is a winner / ~~fool~~, and Bridget thinks that he is nice and friendly / ~~arrogant and rude~~. On New Year's Day / ~~April Fools' Day~~, she finally decides to turn it all around and starts her own diary / ~~business~~, which covers all her attempts to stop smoking, lose money / ~~weight~~, and catch / ~~forget~~ her Mr. Right.

Bridget and Daniel begin to flirt heavily on a holiday / ~~at work~~ and eventually start dating / ~~gambling~~, despite the fact that he is a shy young man / ~~notorious womanizer~~ with a questionable personality / ~~bank account~~. Bridget learns from Daniel that he and Mark have a future / ~~history~~ and as a result, hate / ~~like~~ each other. Daniel informs Bridget of their fallout, telling her that Mark broke their friendship by stealing all his money / ~~sleeping with his fiancée~~.

Daniel's uncertain character becomes more and more hidden / ~~clearer and clearer~~ to Bridget, and eventually she breaks off their relationship when she catches him with another woman, his cousin from Burundi / ~~a colleague of his from work in New York~~. She finds a new job as a cleaning woman / ~~in television~~. In the meantime, she and Mark have a series of run-ins at a book launch, at a Hilton Hotel / ~~bed-and-breakfast~~, and at a mutual friend's dinner party. During the party, Mark, who has come to the dinner with his colleague, Natasha / ~~alone~~, privately confesses to Bridget that, despite Bridget's faults, he likes her if she became a member of Weight Watchers' / ~~just the way that she is~~. He later helps her to land an important interview for work / ~~paint her bedroom in pink~~.

Bridget begins to develop feelings for Mark. Just as Bridget and Mark's mutual attraction for each other fails / ~~comes together~~ at a birthday dinner party hosted by Bridget, Daniel comes back into the picture not being interested in Bridget any more / ~~claiming Bridget's attention~~. Mark originally leaves the party, but comes back to face / ~~avoid~~ Daniel. Mark punches / ~~kisses~~ Daniel and the two fight, resulting in Daniel passing out. Bridget, still thinking that Daniel had been the wronged one, chastise Mark. Afterward, she tells Daniel that she would like / ~~doesn't want~~ to be with him.

Bridget eventually learns the gossip / ~~truth~~ about Mark and Daniel's fallout, in which Daniel had seduced Mark's ex-wife when they were still married. At a dinner party the same day, Bridget denies / ~~confesses~~ her feelings for Mark, only to find out that he and Natasha are both leaving for prison / ~~to accept jobs in New York~~. Just as Bridget starts to embark on a trip to Mount Everest / ~~Paris~~ with her friends to mend her broken heart / ~~find Daniel~~, Mark returns to stay with Bridget.

As they're about to meet / ~~kiss~~ for the first time, Bridget exits to her bedroom to sleep with Daniel / ~~change her undergarments~~. While Bridget is changing, Mark spies / ~~destroys~~ her diary, in which she has written many nice things / ~~insults~~ about him. Bridget returns to find that he has left / ~~gone to sleep~~. Realising that he had read the love letters / ~~her diary~~ and that she might potentially lose / ~~hate~~ him again, Bridget runs outside after him in a thin coat and her undergarments. Unable / ~~Not wanting~~ to find him and disheartened, she is about to return home when Mark disappears / ~~appears~~ holding a new diary. It becomes apparent that the new diary was to be a gift from Mark to give their relationship a fresh start / ~~peaceful end~~. They kiss / ~~say goodbye~~ in the snow-covered streets and the movie ends.